

How are cage eggs produced?

Categories:

Farming

Modern cage farming system used today are clean, automated and highly efficient. Modern sheds include automated feeding, watering, climate control kept at 23°C, ventilation, lighting, and manure and egg collection. the minimum space allowance per hen in a cage farming system is 550cm<sup>2</sup> per bird, though the average cage size ranges from 1800cm<sup>2</sup> to 11,000cm<sup>2</sup>. There must be a 10cm feeder space and a minimum cage height of 40cm.

How are cage eggs produced?