

What are cage eggs?

Categories:

Farming

Cage eggs are produced from hens that are housed in cages inside large, climate controlled sheds. The modern structures used in Australia generally have multiple tiers, with a conveyor belt between each level to catch and remove manure automatically.

What are cage eggs?