

Canola meal and Cottonseed meal in broiler and layer diets

Organisation: Queensland Department of Primary Industries

Publication: 1 May 2003

Researchers: R. Perez-Maldonado

Categories: Feeding & Nutrition

Tags: protein, broiler, canola, cottonseed, dietary, digestibility, eggs, feed, layer hens, meal, nutrition, polysaccharide

This proposes that the Australian egg and poultry industry to incorporate canola and cottonseed meal in poultry diets. Canola and cottonseed meal is proven to be both economical and high in protein.

This proposes that the Australian egg and poultry industry to incorporate canola and cottonseed meal in poultry diets. Canola and cottonseed meal is proven to be both economical and high in protein.